INTRODUCTION

The Australian Institute of Criminology has established a national clearinghouse of criminological information to act as a central agency for the collection, storage, exchange and dissemination of bibliographical data on Australian and Australian-related criminological material.

This information is stored on computer and forms the data base of CINCH (Computerised Information from National Criminological Holdings), the Institute's computerised bibliographic service which provides rapid and comprehensive retrospective searches.

The Information Bulletin of Australian Criminology is published quarterly and is an integral part of this system, publishing in its 'Recent Publications' and 'Current and Recently Completed Research' sections all the new material which continuously updates the CINCH data base. It also contains information regarding past and forthcoming seminars in Australia, bibliographical activities of the J.V. Barry Memorial Library and generally aims to encourage a greater interchange of information between all persons interested in Australian criminology.

The success of the Information Bulletin depends to a large degree on material contributed to it by its readers, and persons who would like a statement of their research to appear or wish to publicise conferences or seminars are invited to complete the appropriate forms supplied with each issue and return them to the address below.

Readers will appreciate that the information contained in the Information Bulletin can only be as accurate and reliable as its source.

The Australian Institute of Criminology hopes that the services provided by CINCH and this Information Bulletin prove valuable to those interested in criminology and looks forward to the continued interest and assistance of its readers.

CURRENT RESEARCH

290 COMMITTAL PROCEEDINGS

- Topic: Committal for Trial
- Auspices: Australian Institute of Criminology
- Researchers: John Seymour and John Newton
- Duration of research: Commenced April 1977, to be completed October 1977
- Funding: Australian Institute of Criminology
- Outline: The study is an analysis of the law relating to committal proceedings in each of Australia's eight jurisdictions. Certain key issues are isolated and discussed. Also included is an outline of procedures in England, Scotland, New Zealand, the United States, and Canada.

291 SENTENCING

- Topic: Sentencing Violent Offenders in New South Wales
- Auspices: Australian Institute of Criminology
- Researcher: Ivan Potas
- Address: P.O. Box 28, Woden. A.C.T. 2606
- Duration of research: March 1977 – October 1977
- Outline: This is an Interim Report and is part of a long term study of the principles of sentencing as enunciated by the judgments of the New South Wales Court of Criminal Appeal. This report aims at providing an insight into the problems of sentencing offenders convicted of violent offences, excluding sex offences, which have been considered in a separate report (Sentencing Sex Offenders in New South Wales. See Recently Completed Research). Many of the cases to be considered are from unreported judgments of the Court of Criminal Appeal. Some attempt will be made to indicate the range of penalties imposed for particular offences.

RECENTLY COMPLETED RESEARCH

292 JUVENILE CORRECTIONS

- Topic: Remand in Custody as Deterrent in Juvenile Jurisdiction
- Auspices: New South Wales Department of Youth and Community Services
- Researcher: Dr J. Kraus
- Outline: The study tested the often made assumption that remand in custody provides the first offender with a 'short sharp shock' that deters recidivism.
A two-year follow up of 90 male juvenile first offenders remanded in custody, and of 90 matched with them offenders remanded at home, (both groups having been given probation), showed that significantly more juveniles re-offend after remand in custody. No difference was found between the recidivists of the two groups in the frequency, pattern and seriousness of offending. The findings were discussed critically, and it was concluded that there is no pragmatic justification for the use of remand in custody as deterrent with male juvenile offenders.

293 POLICE – COMPLAINTS AGAINST

- Topic: Complaints Against Police
- Auspices: The Australian Law Reform Commission
- Researcher: Mr K. O'Connor (Principal Law Reform Officer)
- Address: The Australian Law Reform Commission, Box 3708 G.P.O., Sydney. N.S.W. 2001
- Funding: The Australian Law Reform Commission
- Outline: Complaints against Police (Supplementary Report) Working Paper No.6. The Attorney-General has requested the Commission to undertake an urgent reconsideration of its recommendations in its first report in the light of the Government's decision not to proceed with the proposed Australia Police, recent legislation and other developments in the United Kingdom, Australia and elsewhere, the provisions of the Ombudsman Act 1976 and public, police and other comments received since the publication of the Commission's report on Complaints Against Police. The Working Paper puts forward the Commission's tentative views following its review.

294 POLICE – OCCUPATIONAL STRESS

- Topic: Police Stress
- Auspices: Australian Institute of Criminology
- Researchers: Lyn Davidson and Art Veno
- Address: Psychology Department, Queensland University, St Lucia. Qld. 4067
- Funding: Criminology Research Council
- Outline: (1) Comprehensive literature review of occupational and social stress as it relates to police.
(2) Proposal to the Police Commissioners' Conference concerning a recommended two year prospective study of psychological aspects of police stress.
- Published by: Australian Institute of Criminology
- Available from: Australian Institute of Criminology

295 PRIVACY

- Topic: Privacy and Publication – Proposals for Protection (Discussion Paper No.1)
- Auspices: The Australian Law Reform Commission
- Researchers: Mr M. Wilcox (Commissioner in Charge)
Mr J. Karkar (Senior Law Reform Officer)
- Address: The Australian Law Reform Commission, G.P.O. Box 3708, Sydney. N.S.W. 2001
- Funding: The Australian Law Reform Commission
- Outline: The Discussion Paper is published by the Law Reform Commission to promote discussion and comment. Summary of legislative proposals –
- . Privacy publication law, uniform throughout Australia.
 - . Specific legislation, not a general tort of privacy.
 - . Damages remedy, enforceable by courts.
 - . Private behaviour, home life, personal relationships, photographs in a private place to be prima facie protected.
 - . Material relating to health, photographs of persons in an injured, ill or distressed condition to be prima facie protected.
 - . Information as to old criminal prosecutions to be prima facie restricted.
 - . Defences: Consent, legal authority, privilege, fair report of parliament or court, protection of interests of publisher, public interest.

296 SENTENCING

Topic: Sentencing Sex Offenders in New South Wales
Auspices: Australian Institute of Criminology
Researcher: Ivan Potas
Address: P.O. Box 28, Woden, A.C.T. 2606
Outline: This is an Interim Report, and is part of a long term study of the principles of sentencing as enunciated in the judgments of the New South Wales Court of Criminal Appeal. The report aims at providing an insight into the sentencing of offenders convicted of the more serious sex offences, to indicate the basic principles applicable to the determination of sentence and to illustrate how sentencing decisions are reached for these kind of offences. The range of penalties actually imposed by the Higher Criminal Courts for these offences is also considered.
