Introduction

The Australian Institute of Criminology has established a national clearinghouse of criminological information to act as a central agency for the collection, storage, exchange and dissemination of bibliographical data on Australian and Australian-related criminological material.

This information is stored on computer and forms the data base of CINCH (Computerised Information from National Criminological Holdings), the Institute's computerised bibliographic service which provides rapid and comprehensive retrospective searches.

The Information Bulletin of Australian Criminology is published quarterly and is an integral part of this system, publishing in its 'Recent Publications' and 'Current and Recently Completed Research' sections all the new material which continuously updates the CINCH data base. It also contains information regarding past and forthcoming seminars in Australia, bibliographical activities of the J.V. Barry Memorial Library and generally aims to encourage a greater interchange of information between all persons interested in Australian criminology.

The success of the Information Bulletin depends to a large degree on material contributed to it by its readers, and persons who would like a statement of their research to appear or wish to publicise conferences or seminars are invited to complete the appropriate forms supplied with each issue and return them to the address below.

Readers will appreciate that the information contained in the Information Bulletin can only be as accurate and reliable as its source.

The Australian Institute of Criminology hopes that the services provided by CINCH and this Information Bulletin prove valuable to those interested in criminology and looks forward to the continued interest and assistance of its readers.

Parliamentary Questions and Debates

The Editorial Committee wishes to expand this section by the coverage of parliamentary questions and debates in New South Wales, South Australia, Western Australia, Queensland and the Northern Territory.

Staff shortages make it impossible for the Committee to undertake this work itself.

We would therefore be interested in hearing from Information Bulletin readers in any of the above jurisdictions who have access to the Hansards and would be willing to provide us with the relevant material each quarter.

Offers of assistance should be sent to: The Editorial Committee, Information Bulletin of Australian Criminology, P.O. Box 28, Woden. A.C.T. 2606.

472 CRIME AND THE MEDIA

Topic: Social Networks, Media Usage and Fear of Crime
Researcher: Stephen Mugford
Address: Currently Visiting Fellow Australian Institute of Criminology
Lecturer, Sociology, School of General Studies, Australian National University

Duration of research: Indefinite – presently in pilot stage

Funding: None at present

Outline: The plan is to survey a random sample of Canberra households; to contact the adults in those households and determine their social network contacts and their media usage, in addition to basic demographic data. I shall measure psychiatric adjustment and a number of attitudinal variables related to perceptions about, and fear of, crime and violence.

Underlying hypotheses to be tested concern the extent to which network support increases or decreases use of media, and increases social support, and thus creates or prevents isolation. To then connect isolation to the attitudinal variables to see whether isolated persons are more (or less) fearful of crime, etc., than others and whether this is exacerbated by high media use.
