Introduction

The Australian Institute of Criminology has established a national clearinghouse of criminological information to act as a central agency for the collection, storage, exchange and dissemination of bibliographical data on Australian and Australian-related criminological material.

This information is stored on computer and forms the data base of CINCH (Computerised Information from National Criminological Holdings), the Institute's computerised bibliographic service which provides rapid and comprehensive retrospective searches.

The Information Bulletin of Australian Criminology is published quarterly and is an integral part of this system, publishing in its 'Recent Publications' and 'Current and Recently Completed Research' sections all the new material which continuously updates the CINCH data base. It also contains information regarding past and forthcoming seminars in Australia, bibliographical activities of the J.V. Barry Memorial Library and generally aims to encourage a greater interchange of information between all persons interested in Australian criminology.

The success of the Information Bulletin depends to a large degree on material contributed to it by its readers, and persons who would like a statement of their research to appear or wish to publicise conferences or seminars are invited to complete the appropriate forms supplied with each issue and return them to the address below.

Readers will appreciate that the information contained in the Information Bulletin can only be as accurate and reliable as its source.

The Australian Institute of Criminology hopes that the services provided by CINCH and this Information Bulletin prove valuable to those interested in criminology and looks forward to the continued interest and assistance of its readers.

Parliamentary Questions and Debates

The Editorial Committee wishes to expand this section to cover parliamentary questions and debates in all Australian States and Territories.

Staff shortages make it impossible for the Committee to undertake this work itself.

We would be interested in hearing from Information Bulletin readers in New South Wales, South Australia, Western Australia and the Northern Territory who have access to the Hansards and would be willing to provide us with the relevant material each quarter.

Offers of assistance should be sent to: The Editorial Committee, Information Bulletin of Australian Criminology, P.O. Box 28, Woden. A.C.T. 2606.

Duration of Research: March to July 1980
Outline: A study of drug offences in Australia (with particular reference to Victoria), issues arising from the use of drugs and control by legislation, exposition of relevant legislation, its interpretation and the application of relevant principles of law, strict liability, the effect of intoxication through drugs on ordinary criminal liability, court practice, sentencing, political and social considerations, diversion of offenders, overseas experience, proposals regarding treatment, education and legislation.

531 THE FIRST THREE MONTHS OF FREEDOM

Topic: The First Three Months of Freedom
Auspices: Glebe House, 128 Glebe Point Road, Glebe, 2037
Post Office Box 215, Glebe, 2037. Telephone: 660 3449
Researcher: Tony Roux M.A. (Sociology)
Address: As above (comments and contacts welcomed)
Duration of Research: April 1980 to January 1981
Funding: Criminology Research Council
Outline: To identify . . . the critical factors associated with recidivism and/or successful post-release adjustment via two control groups; one outside and one within residents of Glebe House. This research will provide Australian based statistical data testing the hypothesis that: 'half-way houses reduce recidivism'. It will moreover provide valued research under controlled conditions of the experiences of ex-offenders upon release over the period considered critical. . . that of the first three months.

The report of this research which will also refer to the work of other half-way houses will provide information of value to prison administrators, parole officers and the judiciary.

By implementing any positive findings arising from the research materials, measures may be undertaken to alleviate some of the problems which exist which lead to persons remaining on the reimprisonment cycle.

Part III, covers 'The Law' – child abuse reporting laws, laws dealing with spouse assault, criminal compensation laws, and laws relating to marital rape.
