Introduction

The Australian Institute of Criminology has established a national clearinghouse of criminological information to act as a central agency for the collection, storage, exchange and dissemination of bibliographical data on Australian and Australian-related criminological material.

This information is stored on computer and forms the data base of CINCH (Computerised Information from National Criminological Holdings), the Institute's computerised bibliographic service which provides rapid and comprehensive retrospective searches.

The Information Bulletin of Australian Criminology is published quarterly and is an integral part of this system, publishing in its 'Recent Publications' and 'Current and Recently Completed Research' sections all the new material which continuously updates the CINCH data base. It also contains information regarding past and forthcoming seminars in Australia, bibliographical activities of the J.V. Barry Memorial Library and generally aims to encourage a greater interchange of information between all persons interested in Australian criminology.

The success of the Information Bulletin depends to a large degree on material contributed to it by its readers, and persons who would like a statement of their research to appear or wish to publicise conferences or seminars are invited to complete the appropriate forms supplied with each issue and return them to the address below.

Readers will appreciate that the information contained in the Information Bulletin can only be as accurate and reliable as its source.

The Australian Institute of Criminology hopes that the services provided by CINCH and this Information Bulletin prove valuable to those interested in criminology and looks forward to the continued interest and assistance of its readers.

Parliamentary Questions and Debates

The Editorial Committee is pleased to announce that coverage in this section will now include the New South Wales and South Australia parliaments as well as those of Victoria, Queensland, the Australian Capital Territory and the Commonwealth.

The Committee would be interested in hearing from readers in Western Australia, Tasmania and the Northern Territory who have access to Hansards and would be willing to provide us with the relevant material each quarter. Contributions from these jurisdictions would allow a complete coverage of all Australian parliaments and provide a service which is not available in any other publication.

Offers of assistance should be sent to: The Editorial Committee, Information Bulletin of Australian Criminology, P.O. Box 28, Woden, A.C.T. 2606.

As all State Parliaments have been in their winter recess no material is available for publication in this issue.

791 AN INTERNATIONAL COMPARISON ON MIGRANT CRIME

Topic: An International Comparison on Migrant Crime
Auspices: Caulfield Institute of Technology
Researcher: R.D. Francis
Address: Psychology Department,
Caulfield Institute of Technology,
Box 197,
Caulfield. Vic. 3145

Duration of

Research: Continuing

Outline: Following the completion of a book Migrant Crime in Australia an overseas study leave will be used in 1980 to collect data from Israel and the United Kingdom.

This study will be written up as a presentation of three states with contrasts and comparisons drawn.

796 DRAFT AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL CLASSIFICATION OF OFFENCES

Topic: Draft Australian National Classification of Offences
Auspices: Australian Bureau of Statistics
Researcher: Justice and Other Social Subsection of the Australian Bureau of Statistics
Address: Justice and Other Social Subsection,
Australian Bureau of Statistics,
P.O. Box 10,
Belconnen, A.C.T. 2616
Funding: Australian Bureau of Statistics
Outline: This Classification of Offences provides a standard framework for classifying criminal offences. It forms a fundamental part of the current work being undertaken by the Australian Bureau of Statistics in the development of nationally comparable crime and justice statistics. The classification attempts to bridge the different criminal legislation of each State and Territory and has been designed for use by all agencies involved with crime and justice statistics.

798 RESTORING VICTIMS OF CRIME

- Topic: Restoring Victims of Crime: A Basis for the Reintroduction of Restitution into the Australian Criminal Justice System?
- Auspices: Australian Institute of Criminology
- Researcher: Dr Jocelyne A. Scutt
- Address: Australian Institute of Criminology,
P.O. Box 28,
Woden, A.C.T. 2606
- Funding: Australian Institute of Criminology
- Outline: The paper reviews the historical basis for restitution programmes in ancient, non-European and European societies. Formalised restitution programmes developed in recent years in the United States of America, Canada and the United Kingdom are reviewed.

Part II analyses problems of restitution as a disposition, then reviews current restitution schemes in the United States and other jurisdictions, discussing the various problems arising and how each scheme attempts to deal with these. The rationale of restitution schemes is debated; problems for the offender in such programmes is discussed; victim/offender confrontation is reviewed; the stage at which such a disposition should come into effect is debated.

Part III describes the means by which (and the powers) restitution schemes might be implemented in Australia as formalised programmes, rather than leaving to chance (as is currently the case) any claim by a victim for restitution.

799 RAPE LAW REFORM

- Topic: Rape Law Reform: A Collection of Conference Papers
- Auspices: Australian Institute of Criminology
- Researchers: Dr Jocelyne A. Scutt and Various Authors
- Address: Australian Institute of Criminology,
P.O. Box 28,
Woden, A.C.T. 2606
- Funding: Australian Institute of Criminology
- Outline: This collection arises out of the National Conference on Rape Law Reform held in Hobart under the auspices of the Tasmanian Law Reform Commission, the Australian Institute of Criminology and the University of Tasmania Law School in May, 1980. Four parts include:

Part I – a paper dealing with the Michigan sexual assault law reform, and an evaluation study of its operation.

Part II – four papers dealing with reform of the substantive law, in general overview, from the viewpoint of a criminal code, in a common law state, and in relation to rape in marriage.

Part III – three papers covering attempts at reforming evidence provisions, one a general overview of judge and jury problems with evidence; one looking specifically at the Western Australian situation pre- and post- 'reform' of evidence laws; the third looking specifically at the South Australian situation pre- and post- 'reform' of evidence laws.

Part IV — four papers cover community issues. One gives a broad overview of social issues; police attitudes, hospital care and community care are dealt with in separate papers. Appendices include proposals for law reform and a bibliography.

800 POLICE WAGES IN AUSTRALIA

Topic: Police Wages in Australia
Auspices: Macquarie University
Researcher: Associate Professor Glenn A. Withers
Address: School of Economic and Financial Studies,
Macquarie University,
North Ryde, N.S.W. 2113
Funding: Criminology Research Council
Outline: The study presents a comprehensive collection of police wage data for the Australian police forces. It covers adult male police wages for all ranks from constable to superintendent and indicates pay changes over the period 1964 to 1976. In addition trends in police real wages are outlined and police earnings compared to average civilian earnings and to military pay. The internal wage relativities within each force are examined as are inter-force relativities over the period.

Funding: Criminology Research Council
Outline: The paper presents a set of estimates of major elements in the Australian Criminal Justice system. The data are annual and are provided for each state and territory for the years 1963/64 to 1975/76. The figures present a comprehensive, uniform and complete set of statistics. The paper discusses sources and methods of data construction. The focus is on police data (strengths, applications, enlistments, wastage, wages, expenditures) but also includes crime, court and prison statistical estimates.
