Introduction

The Australian Institute of Criminology has established a national clearinghouse of criminological information to act as a central agency for the collection, storage, exchange and dissemination of bibliographical data on Australian and Australian-related criminological material.

This information is stored on computer and forms the data base of CINCH (Computerised Information from National Criminological Holdings), the Institute's computerised bibliographic service which provides rapid and comprehensive retrospective searches.

The Information Bulletin of Australian Criminology is published quarterly and is an integral part of this system, publishing in its 'Recent Publications' and 'Current and Recently Completed Research' sections all the new material which continuously updates the CINCH data base. It also contains information regarding past and forthcoming seminars in Australia, bibliographical activities of the J.V. Barry Memorial Library and generally aims to encourage a greater interchange of information between all persons interested in Australian criminology.

The success of the Information Bulletin depends to a large degree on material contributed to it by its readers, and persons who would like a statement of their research to appear or wish to publicise conferences or seminars are invited to complete the appropriate forms supplied with each issue and return them to the address below.

Readers will appreciate that the information contained in the Information Bulletin can only be as accurate and reliable as its source.

The Australian Institute of Criminology hopes that the services provided by CINCH and this Information Bulletin prove valuable to those interested in criminology and looks forward to the continued interest and assistance of its readers.

Parliamentary Questions and Debates

The Editorial Committee is pleased to announce that coverage in this section will now include the New South Wales and South Australia parliaments as well as those of Victoria, Queensland, the Australian Capital Territory and the Commonwealth.

The Committee would be interested in hearing from readers in Western Australia, Tasmania and the Northern Territory who have access to Hansards and would be willing to provide us with the relevant material each quarter. Contributions from these jurisdictions would allow a complete coverage of all Australian parliaments and provide a service which is not available in any other publication.

Offers of assistance should be sent to: The Editorial Committee, Information Bulletin of Australian Criminology, P.O. Box 28, Woden, A.C.T. 2606.

1235 HISTORY OF THE VICTORIA POLICE

Topic: History of the Victoria Police
Auspices: Chief Commissioner of Police
Researchers: Sergeant R.K. Haldane (principal editor) and other members of the Force
Address: Management Services Bureau,
Victoria Police,
G.P.O. Box 2763Y,
Melbourne, VIC. 3001
Funding: Internal
Outline: The 126-page book Police in Victoria 1836-1980, outlines the history of the Force from the appointment of the first three constables in 1836 to the present day. The first two chapters cover the Force as a whole, while the next eight deal with individual topics of particular interest, including the Mounted Police, the Women Police and the police strike of 1923. A chapter on modern police operations, showing the extent to which modern technology has been adapted to police work, concludes the book.
