Introduction

The Information Bulletin of Australian Criminology is published quarterly. It contains information regarding current and recently completed research, past and forthcoming seminars in Australia, and bibliographical activities of the J.V. Barry Memorial Library. It also generally aims to encourage a greater exchange of information between all persons interested in Australian criminology. Papers from published conferences and chapters in monographs will be indexed.

The success of the Information Bulletin depends to a large degree on material contributed to it by its readers, and persons who would like a statement of their research to appear or wish to publicise conferences or seminars are invited to complete the appropriate forms supplied with each issue and return them to the address below.

The Australian Institute of Criminology hopes that the services provided by this publication prove valuable to those interested in criminology and looks forward to the continued interest and assistance of its readers.

Current Research

1176 CRIME AND THE FOREIGN BORN

Topic: Crime and the Foreign Born: An International Perspective

Auspices: Chisholm Institute, Melbourne

Researcher: R.D. Francis

Address: Psychology Department,
Chisholm Institute,
P.O. Box 197,
Caulfield East, Vic. 3145

Duration of
Research: 5 years

Funding: Self

Outline: A book that addresses the issues of the topic of crime and the foreign born. It does so from an international perspective. The book deals with immigration policies, migrants and the law, migrants as victims, various conceptual explanations ranging from the physical to the sociological. It also reviews the evidence to date. Expected completion about January 1986.

1177 FORECASTING PRISONER NUMBERS IN QUEENSLAND

Topic: Forecasting Prisoner Numbers in Queensland

Auspices: Queensland Prisons Department
Australian Institute of Criminology

Researcher: J. Walker

Address: Australian Institute of Criminology
P.O. Box 28
Woden, A.C.T. 2606

Duration of
Research: 3 months

Funding: Queensland Prisons Department
Australian Institute of Criminology

Outline: Forecasting prisoner numbers under various policy assumptions, as an aid to forward planning of accommodation and programmes. The Forecasting Model is a version of 'ORACLE', first used in the Victorian Prisons Master Plan and the NZ Justice Department. It is based on demographic projections and age/sex/offence specific rates of conviction and sentencing.

1182 DOMESTIC VIOLENCE AND THE LAW

Topic: Domestic violence and the law : a study of s. 99 of the Justices Act (SA).
Researcher: Ngaire Naffin
Address: Women's Adviser's Officer
Department of the Premier and Cabinet
South Australia
Outline: The aim of the study documented in this report is to evaluate a 1982 amendment to s. 99 of the Justices Act as a form of legal protection for victims of domestic violence. As an initiative of the Women's Adviser to the South Australian Premier, this study is particularly concerned with the effectiveness of the law in restraining violence and behaviour directed at women.

1183 THAT'S 'GARDIA' BUSINESS

Topic: That's 'Gardia' Business : an evaluation of the Aboriginal Justice of the Peace Scheme in Western Australia
Researcher: Annie Hoddinott
Outline: The primary aim of the research project was to determine whether the JP scheme had reduced the rate of imprisonment of participating communities. In addition the project aimed to identify discrepancies between the concept and operation of the Act, and if the operation of the Act had caused changes in the social structure of the participating communities.

1184 REPORT ON A STUDY OF VANDALISM

Topic: A Report on a study of vandalism in two selected regions in Adelaide
Researcher: Allan Patience
Address: School of Social Sciences
Flinders University of South Australia
Bedford Park, SA, 5042
Outline: This research sought to avoid the study of stereotypes by focusing on two groups of youths: (i) those who had come before Juvenile Aid Panels (the legal equivalents of juvenile courts but designed to try to avoid the labelling, hence recidivist-causing tendencies of other forms of official sanction and social disapproval); and (ii) those who were identified by street-workers (youth social workers) as committing relevant offences and who agreed to participate in the research.

1185 ALCOHOL, ACCIDENTS AND CRIMINALITY IN AN ABORIGINAL COMMUNITY

Topic: Alcohol, accidents and criminality in an Aboriginal community
Researcher: Professor Colin Tatz
Address: Professor of Politics
Macquarie University
Outline: The original grant was to enable:
(1) a study of Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal 'criminality' in the Northern Territory;
(2) an assessment of the impact of uranium mining on levels and prevalence of Aboriginal-committed offences; and
(3) an evaluation of the impact of our criminal law and its procedures on remote Aboriginal communities.

These proposals were frustrated by the existing system of statistics in the Territory. The Police Force, since August 1980, has kept a record of Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal arrestees, and those observed or believed to be alcohol and non-alcohol related offences. However, the Law Department maintains no such distinctions, so that arrestees could not be followed through the courts to conclusion.

The researcher has, however, reported on 'Alcohol, Accidents, and Criminality' in a chapter in Aborigines and Uranium: Consolidated Report on the Social Impact of Uranium Mining on the Aborigines of the Northern Territory, Australian Institute of Aboriginal Studies, AGPS, 1984, at pp. 204-217.

1186 ECONOMETRIC TECHNIQUE FOR ESTIMATING TRUE OFFENCE RATES

Topic: An Econometric technique for estimating true offence rates
Researcher: J.C. Baldry
Address: Department of Economics
University of New England
Outline: The procedure explained in this report attempts to provide a complement to, rather than a replacement for, the use of victimisation surveys as a means of deriving information on true offence rates. It is based on the assumption that the proportion of offences committed which are finally recorded is not a random variable, but is rather a variable whose value can be explained by changes in other variables.

1187 THE OUTCOMES OF REMAND IN CUSTODY ORDERS

Topic: The Outcomes of Remand in Custody Orders
Auspsices: Australian Institute of Criminology on behalf of the Conference of Correctional Ministers
Researcher: J. Walker
Address: Australian Institute of Criminology
P.O. Box 28
Woden, A.C.T. 2606
Funding: Australian Institute of Criminology
Outline: 1188 people who completed a period of remand in custody during October-November 1984 were included in a survey designed to identify differences between jurisdictions in the use of remand in custody orders, and to determine if the orders were being improperly applied. The most significant features of the samples were that considerable differences exist between jurisdictions in the level of use of remand, and that the outcomes in Queensland, Northern Territory, Western Australia and South Australia are very frequently non-custodial sentences.

1188 DRUGS, MEDIA AND ENFORCEMENT

Topic: Drugs, Media and Enforcement : A survey of the relationship between drug abuse and media attention to drugs.
Auspices: Criminology Department, University of Melbourne
Researcher: Dr Jane Hendtlass
Current Traffic and Safety Department
Address: RACV, 123 Queen Street, Melbourne, Vic. 3000
Funding: Criminology Research Council
Outline: The survey involved:

- a) review of literature concerning drugs and the media;
- b) description of Operation Noah, a police-media attempt to elicit information about drug traffickers from the general public; and
- c) survey of characteristics of drug offenders and drug overdose patients in Melbourne.

Media attention to drugs is generally sensational, selective and inaccurate. Operation Noah was no exception.

Further, despite over 400 calls from the public about alleged drug trafficking behaviour, and police searches of 150 premises, very few drug charges were laid. No drug traffickers were charged as the result of Operation Noah in the first months after the event.

Overall, the number of people charged with drug offences or overdosing on drugs continues to increase in spite of but not because of Operation Noah.
