UNITED NATIONS CONGRESS

Several papers will be presented by members of the Australian delegation to the Eight United Nations Congress on the Prevention of Crime and Treatment of Offenders, to be held in Havana, Cuba from 27th August to 7th September.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE LIBRARIANS' CONFERENCE

The Seventh Conference for Librarians in the CJS was held in Canberra from 29 to 31 May at Burgmann College, Australian National University. The Conference organised and hosted by the Australian Institute of Criminology, attracted participants from a wide range of organisations including correctional and police agencies, prosecuting bodies, government law departments and academic law departments.

The theme of the Conference was Information for the 1990s and Beyond. The program included sessions on the use of electronic mail services for criminal justice professionals, and the applications of CD-ROM technology in the legal and criminal justice environment. Other papers of particular interest to librarians in the criminal justice area dealt with prison library services, sources of statistical information, and case studies of libraries. Demonstrations and trade displays were a feature of the Conference. Conference participants were given hands-on opportunities to access electronic mail services, online bibliographic databases and CD-ROM products.

During the Conference Australian Prison Libraries: Minimum Standard Guidelines was launched by Chief Justice Jeffrey Miles of the ACT Supreme Court. Compiled by Philip Roberts, the book was published by the Australian Library and Information Association as an ALIA endorsed standard.

Selected proceedings of the Conference will be published at a later date.

UNITED NATIONS CRIMINAL JUSTICE INFORMATION NETWORK

A new service on UNCJIN is the AIDS Data Base (Copyright, Information Inc., Washington DC).

The service is accessed at System Command level by entering "Q" then "AIDS". The AIDS information service offers an historical database of the AIDS Daily Summary which can be accessed by keyword and date. A search of the database under the keywords "prison or prisoners or prisons" revealed 173 occurrences, and a search under "corrections or correctional" produced 47 occurrences. Many of the summaries dealt with the topic of segregation of prisoners with AIDS - one currently of concern to the correctional administrators.

CONFERENCES, SEMINARS AND MEETINGS

1. AUSTRALIAN INSTITUTE OF CRIMINOLOGY

THE POLICE AND THE COMMUNITY IN THE 1990s 23-25 October 1990, Brisbane

In the aftermath of the Fitzgerald Inquiry, the Queensland Police Service is addressing as a primary policing strategy, the issue of community policing. The conference is designed to cover both an international and Australian perspective on the state of the art, but emphasis will be placed on the concept, mechanisms and potential problems of community participation in policing operations.

As well as international, academic and police speakers, members of various advocacy and interest groups will be included in a conference format incorporating panel discussions and hypothetical community situations. The conference will be jointly sponsored by the Australian Institute of Criminology and Criminal Justice Commission Queensland.

HIV/AIDS AND PRISONS

19-21 November 1990, Melbourne

The issue of HIV/AIDS in the Australian prison system raises many complex issues. This conference will look at what is known and needs to be known about HIV/AIDS in the prison population, policies and programs designed to deal with HIV/AIDS in prisons, and legal issues. The Conference will also address HIV/AIDS and juvenile institutions, and community based corrections.

DNA PROFILING IN COURT

*Canberra Legal Symposium Series - 27-28
October 1990, 10-11 November 1990, Canberra*

Forensic evidence based on DNA profiling ("fingerprinting") has been a contributory factor in over 100 criminal convictions in the United States and resolved more than 3,000 kinship and paternity cases in the United Kingdom. Australian forensic laboratories and courts of law are turning increasingly to DNA profiling to furnish definite proof of identity and pedigree. This accredited instruction program is sponsored jointly by the Australian National University (Faculty of Science and Faculty of Law) and the Australian Institute of Criminology. It is designed especially to cover the practical needs of judges and lawyers in evaluating this new evidence. The course will be presented by internationally respected authorities in the principles and practice of the technologies of DNA profiling and will include substantial "hands-on" instruction.

INTERNATIONAL TRENDS IN CRIME: EAST MEETS WEST

10-13 December 1990, Nusa Dua, Bali, Indonesia

First Annual Conference of the Indonesian Society of Criminology in conjunction with the Australian Institute of Criminology and The Netherlands Council for Co-operation with Indonesia in Legal Matters. The conference will address new developments in crime and criminal policy from an international perspective and attempt to bridge the gap between western theories and eastern practices.

New Publications

AUSTRALIAN INSTITUTE OF CRIMINOLOGY

The first in a new series, Conference Proceedings No. 1
Alcohol and Crime

This Conference Proceedings is a major contribution to the debate concerning the relationship between alcohol use and criminal behaviour. The papers from this Conference discuss the links between alcohol use and crime; drink driving; policing problems; under-age drinking; alcohol and domestic violence; Aboriginal drinking; corrective programs and legislative issues.

Government, health advocates, law enforcers, and the liquor industry all have a role to play in prevention measures aimed at reducing per capita alcohol consumption. Alcohol and Crime provides the basis for a positive approach in dealing with criminal behaviour associated with alcohol use.

ISBN 0 642 14961 5. 247 mm. x 175 mm. 276 pp. A$20.00.

The latest issue in the Crime Prevention series
Preventing Car Theft and Crime in Car Parks
by Susan Geason and Paul R. Wilson

The volume of car theft and crime in car parks is startling. It is estimated that a car is stolen in Australia every six minutes. Further, large public car parks pose other threats: poor lighting and lack of surveillance provide an environment which lends itself to criminal activity. Preventing car theft and crime in car parks combines a situational approach to the prevention of car crime with longer term educational strategies. Matters considered include encouraging better security habits, car design solutions and environmental design strategies.

ISBN 0 642 14939 9. 210 mm. x 138 mm. 56 pp. A$10.00.

Crime and Justice in Australia
by Satyanshu Mukherjee, Debbie Neuhaus and John Walker

Many of the questions that you have wanted to ask about the criminal justice system are answered in Crime and Justice in Australia. This single volume report on crime and justice in Australia contains information and statistics concerning the criminal event, victim, offender, arrest and court procedures, sentencing and punishment and the cost of justice. This book, which contains 43 figures and 49 tables, will be of interest to the general public as well as criminal justice practitioners. It will be particularly useful for secondary school students.

ISBN 0 642 14938 0. 295 x 206 mm. 74 pp. A$30.00.
