

CONTENTS

Introduction 1

Chapter 1

SEX WORKERS OR SCARLET WOMEN? 7

Prostitution: A Work-Based Occupation 7

The Moral Response 18

The Academic Response 32

The Legal Response 48

Conclusion 63

Chapter 2

CONTROL, REGULATION AND LEGISLATION 67

Prostitution Regulation in Colonial and Early Federal Australia 67

Criminalising Prostitutes in Current Australian Legislation 86

The Legalisation Experiment: Victoria 109

Prohibition and Policing in New South Wales, 1908-78 125

Towards Decriminalisation: New South Wales in the 1980s 139

Conclusion 158

Chapter 3

THE SOCIAL LIVES OF PROSTITUTES 171

Prostitutes in the Class System 174

The Family and Social Relations of Prostitutes 188

Sex Lives of Prostitutes 202

Conclusion 226

Chapter 4

THE WORKING LIVES OF PROSTITUTES 229

Public to Private: Where Prostitutes Work 230

Entrance into Prostitution 251

The Nature of the Work 272

Criminality, Addiction and Contagion 295

Pimps and Patrons: the "Boys" in the Business 323

Conclusion 349

Chapter 5

THE PROSTITUTES' RESPONSE 351

No Bad Women, Just Bad Laws 351

A Decade and a Half of Struggle: the Prostitutes' Movement 363

A Strategy for a Radical Integration 374

Conclusion 393

Appendices

Appendix 1 - Questionnaire 397

Appendix 2 - Methodology 417

029699 → Appendix 3 - Prostitutes Organisations 425

References 431

Bibliography 445

Index 461

TABLES

- Table 1.1: List of publications by a) Discipline; b) Area; c) Period 33
- Table 2.1A: Prostitution Laws in Offences and Crimes Statutes in Australian States and Territories 88-9
- Table 2.1B: Prostitution Laws in Statutes of New Zealand, North America and some Western European countries 90-1
- Table 2.2: Prostitution-related arrests for fiscal year, 1986-87 105
- Table 2.3: Arrests for prostitution-related offences in Tasmania, Western Australia and Queensland 106
- Table 2.4: Arrests for prostitution-related offences in South Australia 108
- Table 2.5: Criminal matters proven for prostitution related offences in Victorian courts, final appearances, 1981-85 123
- Table 2.6: Arrests for prostitution-related offences in Victoria 125
- Table 2.7: Arrests for prostitution-related offences, 1908-19 127
- Table 2.8: Arrests for prostitution-related offences, 1920-39 129
- Table 2.9: Arrests for prostitution-related offences, 1945-59 132
- Table 2.10: Arrests for prostitution-related offences, 1960-69 135
- Table 2.11: Arrests for prostitution-related offences, 1970-71 and court appearances for prostitution-related offences, 1972-78 138
- Table 2.12: Court appearances for prostitution-related offences 1979 -89 151
- Table 2.13: Court appearances for prostitution-related offences by sex and age groups, 1981-89 152
- Table 2.14: Police arrests for prostitution-related offences in the fiscal years, 1985-86 to 1988-89 153
- Table 3.1: Distribution of sample of 128 prostitutes in this study 173
- Table 3.2: Previous occupations of sample of 128 prostitutes 173
- Table 3.3: Age groups of prostitutes, health-workers, students 175
- Table 3.4: Marital status of prostitutes, health-workers, students 175
- Table 3.5: Number of children of prostitutes, health-workers, students 176
- Table 3.6: Ages of children of prostitutes, health-workers, students 177
- Table 3.7: Current husband/lover of prostitutes, health-workers, students as the natural father of the children 177
- Table 3.8: Education levels of prostitutes health-workers, students 180
- Table 3.9: Education achievements of women in Australia, 1986 181
- Table 3.10: Occupations of fathers of prostitutes, health-workers, students 182
- Table 3.11: Male occupations in Australia, 1989 183
- Table 3.12: Inherited religion(s) of prostitutes, health-workers, students 184
- Table 3.13: Religious followings in Australia, 1986 185

- Table 3.14: Systems of belief at present of prostitutes, health-workers, students 185
- Table 3.15: Permanent residential areas of prostitutes, health-workers, students 187
- Table 3.16: Relationships between mothers and prostitutes, health-workers, students 189
- Table 3.17: Relationships between fathers and prostitutes, health-workers, students 189
- Table 3.18: Relationships between parents of prostitutes, health-workers, students 191
- Table 3.19: Position in natal family of prostitutes, health-workers, students 192
- Table 3.20: Relationships between prostitutes, health-workers, students and their siblings 192
- Table 3.21: Close childhood friends of prostitutes, health-workers, students 194
- Table 3.22: Close adolescent friends of prostitutes, health-workers, students 194
- Table 3.23: Close women friends of prostitutes, health-workers, students 195
- Table 3.24: Duration of present love/marriage relationships of prostitutes, health-workers, students 197
- Table 3.25: Companions in present shared accommodations of prostitutes, health-workers, students 197
- Table 3.26: Age of first sexual experience of prostitutes, health-workers, students 202
- Table 3.27: Type of first sexual experience of prostitutes, health-workers, students 203
- Table 3.28: Ages of those prostitutes, health-workers, students sexually abused as children 206
- Table 3.29: Perpetrators of child sexual assaults of prostitutes, health-workers, students 206
- Table 3.30: Pecuniary gain or the granting of cash or gifts in exchange for sexual favours of prostitutes, health-workers, students as children 207
- Table 3.31: Sexuality of prostitutes, health-workers, students 210
- Table 3.32: Age at first sexual intercourse of prostitutes, health-workers, students 211
- Table 3.33: Context of first coital experience of prostitutes, health-workers, students 213
- Table 3.34: Age at onset of first love affair of prostitutes, health-workers, students 214
- Table 3.35: First lover's sex and age difference to prostitutes, health-workers, students 216
- Table 3.36: Duration of first love affair of prostitutes, health-workers, students 218
- Table 3.37: Orgasmic experiences of prostitutes 219

Table 3.38:	Incidences of rape of prostitutes (beyond work), health-workers, students	222
Table 3.39:	Persons responsible for raping prostitutes, health-workers, students	223
Table 3.40:	Incidences of abortions of prostitutes, health-workers, students	224
Table 3.41:	Father (s) of aborted foetus of prostitutes, health-workers, students	225
Table 4.1:	Motivations for entering prostitution perceived by non-prostitutes	255
Table 4.2:	Average weekly earnings for Australian states, 1989	264
Table 4.3:	Previous work experiences of prostitutes, health-workers, students	265
Table 4.4:	Female occupations in Australia, 1989	266
Table 4.5:	Highest net income in a week of prostitutes, health-workers, students	270
Table 4.6:	Prostitutes annual earnings compared to annual incomes for individual Australians	274
Table 4.7A:	Services offered by prostitutes (n=128)	282
Table 4.7B:	Services rejected by prostitutes (n=128)	283
Table 4.8:	Aspects of prostitution liked by prostitutes	286
Table 4.9:	Aspects of prostitution disliked by prostitutes	290
Table 4.10:	Juvenile offences of prostitutes, health-workers, students	296
Table 4.11:	Adult offences of prostitutes, health-workers, students	298
Table 4.12:	Drugs used regularly some time in the past by prostitutes, health-workers, students	305
Table 4.13:	Age when drugs, tobacco and alcohol first taken by prostitutes, health workers, students	305
Table 4.14:	Cigarettes smoked per day by prostitutes, health-workers, students	307
Table 4.15:	Alcohol consumed by prostitutes, health-workers, students	307
Table 4.16:	Cannabis consumed regularly by prostitutes, health-workers, students	308
Table 4.17:	Depressants, stimulants and hallucinogens used by prostitutes, health-workers, students	309
Table 4.18:	Heroin consumption by prostitutes, health-workers, students	310
Table 4.19:	Cocaine consumption by prostitutes, health-workers, students	310
Table 4.20:	STD infections of prostitutes, health-workers, students	315
Table 4.21:	Frequency of infection of prostitutes, health-workers, students	316
Table 4.22:	Contraception among prostitutes, health-workers, students	321
Table 5.1:	Comparisons between prostitutes (n=128) who began sex work under 16, between 16-18 and 19 or over	353

FIGURES

- Figure 4.1: Distribution of streetwalkers, brothels, strip clubs and bars in Kings Cross 1986-89 252
- Figure 4.2: Distribution of streetwalkers, brothels and houses of assignment in East Sydney and Darlinghurst 1983-89 252
- Figure 4.3: Brothels and streetwalkers in Sydney metropolitan area 1986-89 253
- Figure 4.4: Extent health-workers (n= 115) and students (n= 120) have considered prostitution as a job option 254
- Figure 4.5: Reasons given by prostitutes (n=128) for entering prostitution 256
These subjects gave multiple answers, so that 216 separate reasons were given. Percentages are of number of subjects responding to each reason.
- Figure 4.6: Age of entrance into prostitution (n=128) 258
- Figure 4.7: Average weekly earnings of prostitutes (n=128) 273
- Figure 4.8: Average hours prostitutes (n= 128) worked per week 277
- Figure 4.9: Prostitution related arrests of prostitutes (n=128) 300
- Figure 4.10: Police malpractices experienced by prostitute sample (n=128) 301
- Figure 4.11: Drug habit after taking up prostitution (n=128) 312
- Figure 4.12: Precautions taken by prostitutes (n=128) against infection 319
- Figure 4.13: Medical screenings of prostitutes (n=128) 320
- Figure 4.14: Number of clients per week (n=128) 330
- Figure 4.15: Percentage of clients of prostitutes (n=128) who are regulars 330
- Figure 4.16: Estimates of ratio of married men in clientele of prostitutes (n=128) 333
- Figure 4.17: Estimated class backgrounds of clients of prostitutes (n=128) 333
- Figure 4.18: Frequency of attraction to clients by prostitutes (n=128) 335
- Figure 4.19: Relationships between clients and prostitutes (n=128) 335
- Figure 4.20: Requests most often made to prostitutes (n=128) by clients 337
- Figure 4.21: Percentage of bondage and discipline/fantasy requests made to prostitutes (n=128) 340
- Figure 4.22: Frequency of rape and other violence committed against prostitutes (n=128) at work 345
- Figure 4.23: Precautions taken by prostitutes (n=128) as protection against violence 347
Most of the sample took two or three precautions.